Information Age Publishing : Civic Engagement in a Network Society (Research on International Civic Engagement) before purchasing it in order to gauge whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Civic Engagement in a Network Society (Research on International Civic Engagement):

The Pew Charitable Trusts defines civic engagement as "Individual and collective actions designed to identify and address issues of public concern. Civic engagement can take many forms, from individual volunteerism to organizational involvement to electoral participation. It can include efforts to directly address an issue, work with others in a community to solve a problem or interact with the institutions of representative democracy. Civic engagement encompasses a range of activities such as working in a soup kitchen, serving on a neighborhood association, writing a letter to an elected official or voting.”
