Baird Every person who wants to be a sportscaster of any sport, whether radio or television, whether football, baseball, basketball, hockey, etc. needs to read this book. I learned from Merrill Reese that delivering a genuine sportscast is far more than no cussing and keeping it G-rated. This book is just like taking a college course in sportscasting without paying a whole bunch of money. It is in the right hand drawer of my desk at home. I bring this book with me to every announcing gig. I read it while on the bus to and from games. I even read it at the ballpark if I have to pass the time before the game. Even as an experienced sports announcer, I've gained a lot of knowledge from just about everything Merrill has written. If I could have one book about how to be a sportscaster, this would be the one. I strongly recommend this book to every announcer. If you do it for money, this is a great book. If you do it just for the labor of love, this is an exceptional book for that too. This review was guest-written by my son Michael, the Voice of Marin County Sports. 0 of 0 people found the following review helpful.
