P. Bethencourt : Success in Six Cups of Coffee: How Smart Networking Conquers Hidden Obstacles before purchasing it in order to gauge whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Success in Six Cups of Coffee: How Smart Networking Conquers Hidden Obstacles:

Can it be that in order to reach the investor you need for your new venture, or to find the employer who will give you the chance of a lifetime, you only need to have six cups of coffee? Research tells us there is an average of six intermediate people that form an invisible chain between you and the person who will help you succeed.
