From Routledge : Time Use Studies and Unpaid Care Work (Routledge/UNRISD Research in Gender and Development) before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Time Use Studies and Unpaid Care Work (Routledge/UNRISD Research in Gender and Development):

Across the world, unpaid care work - unpaid housework, care of persons, and "volunteer" work - isnbsp;done predominantly by women. This book presents and compares unpaid care work patterns in seven different countries. It analyzes data drawn from large-scale time use surveys carried out under the auspices of the United Nations Research Institute for Social Development (UNRISD). Withnbsp;its in-dephtnbsp;concentration on time use patterns in developing nations, this book will offer many new insights for scholars of gender and care.

About the Author Debbie Budlender is a specialist researcher with the Community Agency for Social Enquiry (CASE), a South African non-governmental organization working in the area of social policy research.
