

(Library ebook) Trade, Globalization and Poverty (Routledge Studies in International Business and the World Economy)

Trade, Globalization and Poverty (Routledge Studies in International Business and the World Economy)

From Routledge
*audiobook / ebooks / Download PDF / ePub / DOC

2007-12-14 2007-12-14File Name: B001UFFN6K | File size: 71.Mb

From Routledge : Trade, Globalization and Poverty (Routledge Studies in International Business and the World Economy) before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Trade, Globalization and Poverty (Routledge Studies in International Business and the World Economy):

An outstanding work, written to celebrate the seventieth birthday of Jagdish Bhagwati; the foremost defender of free trade and its role in developing economies in the world today, this rigorously academic and critical volume represents an important contribution to the understanding of many aspects of globalization. The editors, affiliated with four of the leading economics departments in the USA bring together a stellar line of contributors from across the world to discuss the themes and arguments raised by Bhagwati's latest work. A renowned professor of economics and regarded as one of the foremost international trade economists of modern times, Jagdish Bhagwati has written or edited over forty books including In Defence of Globalization and Free Trade Today as well as being the founding editor of Economics and Politics and The Journal of International Economics. A tribute to the great intellectual accomplishments and the inspiration that Jagdish Bhagwati provided to the field during his prolific and influential career, this book is a must read for all students and academics studying or working in international trade and development economics.

About the Author Elias Dinopoulos is Professor of Economics at the University of Florida. Pravin Krishna is Chung Ju Yung Distinguished Professor of International Economics at Johns Hopkins University, Washington DC and also Research Associate at the National Bureau of Economic Research. Arvind Panagariya is Professor of Economics and Jagdish Bhagwati Professor of Indian Political Economy at Columbia University, New York. Kar-yiu Wong is Professor of Economics at the University of Washington.